MegaPath and Fusion - Better Together

Earlier this month, MegaPath announced it reached an agreement to be acquired by Fusion, a leading cloud solutions provider. The combined company will become a truly disruptive force in the rapidly growing cloud services marketplace, with over $600 million in annual revenues, more than 160,000 business customers and a robust nationwide network.

The transaction will expand our team of experienced technology professionals, enhance our solutions, and provide more infrastructure, network and resources to better serve our partners and customers.

Rest assured, the way you do business with MegaPath has not changed. Our knowledgeable account teams and support staff remain the same. We continue to offer our complete portfolio, including SD-WAN, Security, Voice, UCaaS, WiFi and nationwide connectivity services, all backed by 100% U.S.-based tech support. Following the close, we will operate as MegaPath, a Fusion Company, while we work together to integrate the companies.

Case Study: Data Clean Migrates from MPLS to SD-WAN; Network Performance Now a "Non-Issue"

In 2013, Data Clean's President and Co-Owner, Rich Hill, was dealing with perennial complaints about slow connectivity speeds attributed to bandwidth. At the same time, the company's traditional POTS phone equipment was at its end of life. Hill wanted to upgrade his data network while transitioning the company to Voice over IP (VoIP). Data Clean implemented an MPLS network solution that initially delivered the consistent bandwidth performance the company needed. However, in 2016, Data Clean's Internet connectivity became "wildly bursty." Around that time, MegaPath introduced SD-WAN, and migrated Hill from MPLS to SD-WAN, giving Data Clean the ability to deploy redundant, bi-directional Internet circuits for around the same cost as their MPLS service.

Today, Hill doesn't have to think twice about his voice or data network.

Network performance has become a non-issue. MegaPath has become a ubiquitous utility that we take for granted. We don't have to think about it. It's like a light switch. It turns on and it does what I need it to do.

– Rich Hill, Data Clean, President and Co-Owner

MegaPath Proudly Sponsors Trek for Autism

MegaPath is proud to sponsor Trek for Autism. The new charity was established by Madeline Foster and her father, our President and COO, Dan Foster. The duo is climbing Mount Kilimanjaro in June to raise Autism awareness and money for two great charities.

One hundred percent of funds raised will be donated to Sunflower Hill, a sustainable residential community for individuals with special needs that provides for life-long residency options and vocational, educational and recreational programs to ensure a full and productive life, and Autism Speaks, an autism advocacy organization that sponsors research and conducts awareness and outreach activities.

Thank you to all of our wonderful partners who have contributed to this great cause thus far.
